BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL
ESTABLISHED AS A REFUGE FROM QUACKERY
The Only Place Where a Cure Can be Obtained.

DR. JOHNSON has discovered the most Certain, Speedy and only Effectual Remedy in the world for all Private Diseases, Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsy, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Tremblings, Dimness of Sight or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those Terrible disorders arising from the Solitary Habits of Youth—those SECRET and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the song of Syrens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage &c., impossible.

YOUNG MEN

Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of Young Men of the most exhalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ectasy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS

Immediately Cured, and full Vigor Restored.

This Distressing Affection—which renders Life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgences. Young persons are to apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived the pleasures of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms to both body and mind arise. The system becomes Deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions Weakened, Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility, a Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.

A CURE WARRANTED IN TWO DAYS.
No Mercury or Nuseons Drugs.

DR. JOHNSON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

THESE are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsy, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY.—The fearful effects of the mind are much to be dreaded—Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of spirits, Evil-Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

THOUSANDS of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption.

YOUNG MEN

Who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in when alone, a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured renders marriage imposible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons MUST, before contemplating reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.

DISEASE OF IMPRUDENCE.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to "that Undiscovered Country from whence no traveller returns."

It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing to the unskillfulness of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that Deadly Poison, Mercury, ruin the constitution and make the residue of life miserable.

STRANGERS

Trust not your lives, or health to the care of the many Unlearned and Worthless Pretenders, destitute of knowledge, name or character, who copy Dr. Johnston's advertisements, or style themselves, in the newspapers, regularly Educated Physicians, incapable of Curing, they keep you trifling month after month, taking their filthy and poisonous compounds, or as long as the smallest fee can be obtained, and in despair, leave you with ruined health to sigh over your galling disappointment.

Dr. Johnston is the only Physician advertising.

His remedies or treatment are unknown to all others, prepared from a life spent in the great hospitals of Europe, the first in the country and a more extensive Private Practice than any other Physician in the world.

INDORSEMENT OF THE PRESS.

The many thousands cured at this institution, year after year, and the numerous important Surgical operations performed by Johnston, witnessed by the reporters of the "Sun," "Clipper," and many other papers, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his standing as a gentlemen of character and responsibility, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

SKIN DISEASES SPEEDILY CURED.

No letters received unless post-paid and containing a stamp to be used on the reply. Persons writing should state age and send portion of advertisement describing symptoms.

Persons writing should be particular in directing their letters to this Institution, in the following manner:—

OUR COUNTRY CALLS TO ARMS.

BY JAMES WIDNEY.

Columbia's sons, in strength arise,
To arms! To arms! our country cries,
Maintain our cause, or Freedom dies,
While foes rejoice triumphantly.

Our fathers bled to make us free
And raised the flag of Liberty,
That proudly waves o'er land and sea
Its stars and stripes so gracefully.

We are the sons of patriot sires,
Our altars glow with sacred fires
And Freedom tunes our natal lyers
With strains of sweetest melody.

O'er hill, and dell, and mountain glen
We hear the sound of arming men
To drive foul treason from its den
And route its hordes of treachery.

In phalanx strong, in grand parade,
Draw forth the flashing battle blade
"And trust in God," be not dismayed,
And he will give you victory.

Then forward march the foe to meet,
(Who trailed our flag beneath their feet,)
And all their foul designs defeat
And sink their names in infamy.

Wield well your arms and let them feel
The minie ball and bristling steel,
The horseman's charge, and deafening peal
Of thunder toned artillery.

Our hopes are centred in ye brave
Who rush our blood-bought land to save,
Unfurl your banners, let them wave,
And charge the foe impetuously.

Rest not, nor from the field retreat
Until the victory is complete,
And every sward beneath your feet
Shall be a traitor's sepulchre.

WILLIE THE RUNAWAY.

A STORY FOR CHILDREN.

One moonlight night, when all the house was still, Willie Nichols rose softly from his bed. He dressed himself quietly that he might not disturb his sister, or his little brother Bennie who slept with him. Through the window of the attic room the moonbeams shone softly, and they threw their beautiful light on Fannie's pale face, and on Bennie's curling hair.—They showed Willie the seams and the cracks in the old wall, the trunk which his father had carried with him on his voyage years ago, and the little Bible on the stand. Precious little Bible! His Sabbath-school teacher had given it to him as a token of love, long before he had ever thought of being a runaway. Out of the window the same moonlight was falling softly on the old mulberry tree in the little garden, and making fantastic shadows of its leaves and branches upon the ground. It fell too upon the Squire's white house, standing so proudly among the old stately trees, and upon the long winding road that led to Farmer Benson's.

Willie stood trembling and irresolute, as he gazed upon the still world outside. For a moment his good angel whispered, "Stay, Willie! Do not leave your widowed mother and her little ones, and your dear home." But a whisper on the other side was louder still, and saying, "I can never go to Farmer Benson's," the boy dressed himself, tied up his few things, and his Bible among them. Then, with a last fond look at brother, sister, he stole out of the room and down the stairs. At his mother's door he paused, and put his hand upon the latch, but he did not venture to go in. His mother might awake, and Willie did not dare to meet her tender gaze, and ask a blessing upon his purpose.

Willie's mother was poor. Her husband's ship had been wrecked on a distant coast. And he had gone down with it.—A hard struggle had Mrs. Nichols to procure food and fire for her little ones, though many of her neighbors were kind, and would have helped her if they could. But they were poor themselves, and could give but kind wishes and a day's work now and then, to the widow. Meanwhile by various means, sewing, washing, nursing the sick, and, in fact everything that a woman's needy hands could do—she had made both ends meet, until her three oldest children were old enough to help her. Robert and Mattie were learning trades and Willie was to be bound out to a farmer.

The little fellow had objected to this; but his mother deemed it best for him, and the arrangements had been completed to her own satisfaction and that of Mr. Benson. Willie Nichols could find no fault with the farmer, who was a pleasant genial man, with a kind word for every one; but he longed to go to sea. The sea with its wild blue waves, foam-crested, with its wideness and vastness, was the subject of his thoughts day and night.—"Oh! how free," thought Willie, "must a sailor's life be."

But his mother had a horror of the ocean ever since the letters came that told her of the wreck of the Flying Fish.—Her boys had often heard her remark that "no son of hers should be a sailor." Willie had sometimes spoken of his wish; but his mother had said if he loved her he would not mention the sea in her hearing.

And so it was that Willie became a runaway. Down the stairs, through the little garden, out on the highway. The world before him! cold, desolate, bitter world, that had tempted and disappointed so many! Home behind him, sweet home, with its morning and evening altar of prayer, its charmed circle of loving ones, its recollections of a mother's kiss. Poor little wanderer! Ah my boy, pause, before you, like he, step out from the sweet refuge of your earthly home, into the storms and tempests of life.

Willie's home was near a seaport town. Before noon of the next day he was on the deck of a ship bound for the South Pacific. When again the moon shone on the water, his native land was fading away in the distance.

Willie did not find a sailor's life so free as he expected. There were hard words and hard blows to bear. There was coarser fare than he had been used to.—There was climbing up the rigging when the waves were lashed by storms, and the ship rolled at their will. Many an hour of pain and home-sickness came to Willie, and sometimes his little hammock was wet with tears. Still, it was not so hard for him as for many others. His prompt obedience, and cheerful industry, his fearlessness and agility, made him a favorite on board, and there was not a man on the vessel, who would not have risked life and limb to save the little fellow had he been in danger.

Eighteen months went by. They had touched here and there at different ports, and now and then they had spoken a vessel bound homeward, or perhaps bound still further away than they were themselves.

One day the second mate, who was standing on the deck, said suddenly to the boy:

"Willie, where did you come from?"

"From Line, sir, near N———"

"Did you run away?"

"Have you a father and a mother?"

"A mother at home, but my father is dead."

"Does your mother know where you are my boy?"

"Far worse to her to be in suspense.—Twenty thousand miles from home, and your mother not know of it! No, Will! the first vessel we speak must carrry a letter to your mother. Remember, my boy!

Willie promised, and began, in his leisure moments, a letter.

A few days afterward they were chasing a whale. This is very dangerous sport, for the huge creature when wounded, strikes deadly blows with his tail, and often capsizes boats, or breaks them to pieces. The boat which held Willie and four or five of the sailors had the bottom knocked out of it by a blow of the monster's tail. Pale, and dreadfully bruised, the boy was lifted up the ship's side, and laid in his hammock.

That night the mate watched by him till twelve o'clock. He had fallen into a gentle sleep, saying he would be all right in the morning. Bidding two of the men to watch if he wanted anything, the kind mate, who had always been his friend, left him, that he might himself seek repose.

Morning came. In its first gray light the mate returned to Willie's bed. The watchers overcome by weariness, had fallen asleep. "Willie, how do you feel?" But Willie did not answer.

"He must be asleep," said his friend, surprised that no reply was given. He laid his hand on the boy's forehead. It was cold as marble. He lifted the little hand. It fell pulseless and cold from his grasp. Willie was dead.

Alone, all alone in the drear dead of night, without a mother's soft caress, or a sister's loving whisper, the little runaway boy had been called to die—alone in the swinging ship, on the wide, wide sea.—And next day, as the sailors stood around in a solemn, silent circle, they brought the little white form on deck. It was sewed up in the hammock, with only the face left uncovered, that all might see for the last time, the beautiful features, and the brown, wavy hair. The captain read the burial service; and then the canvass was sewed up, the weight put in at the feet, that it might sink more quickly to its ocean grave, and the body of Willie Nichols was let down into the waves. And, as the ship went faster and faster on its way, the little sailor-boy's form sank deeper and deeper to the bottom of the sea, there to rest until the resurrection.

The unfinished letter and a curl of the brown hair, were placed in Willie's Bible, and sent home to his mother. But she had gone before; and we can but hope that little Willie had been led to repent and believe in Jesus.

I heard the story of little Willie Nichols from the gentleman who, years before, had sent the account of his death to the old home in Line.—Banner of the Covenant.

LAUREL SWAMP INN.

The following preamble and advertisement of "Laurel Swamp Inn," by R. M. S. Jackson, M. D., the original proprietor, will be read with amusement; especially by those who were acquainted with the Doctor and could appreciate his fine accomplishments and original humor. This Inn was one of the first buildings erected in the vicinity of Cresson, and was fitted up and opened to receive the public in 1853. This same building now forms the Turnpike front of what is called the "Lower House."

"THE NEW INN."

"Rare Ben Johnston" once delighted appreciating audiences with the wit, the learning, the genuine poetry, of a play bearing the above captivating title; in our degenerate days the legitimate Drama has fallen into disrepute; yet although "The New Inn" never more graces the boards of national and capital theatre, the scholar, the man of taste, always peruses the play with feelings of refined pleasure.

But it is of another creation of mingled romance and reality that we must now speak: to wit, the new Inn of Robert Smith.

The Smith family is one which during ages has been prominently before the public; from time immemorial there have been Smiths who towered above the common herd,

"In shape and gesture proudly eminent."

We have not space enough to widen upon them all—we cannot expatiate upon the bright deeds, the shining virtues, the commanding talents which may have distinguished the individual Smiths, from the time of John the adventurer, who made love to Pochahontas, down to Joseph the Mormon, who was disposed to make love to everybody; we are even compelled to take Alexander at his word and let him,

"Love and flush and thrill,
Or let him die."

Our business with Robert, who having bade adieu to the aesthetics and the angels, is disposed to find "that tranquility which passeth all understanding," in acts of merest philanthropy, in common, every day charities of a cup of cold water to the thirsty, and a crust of bread to the hungry.

Abandoning "star-eyed science," turning away from the court of the Muses, he will preside in his new temple of the Actual; and as Prophet and Priest of the new Philosophy, will teach mankind to turn the cold shoulder upon the Mystical, the Abstract, and enrapture them with all that is Transcendental in common provender, and all that is Idyllic in three cent whiskey.

So now for Robert's first "utterance."

LAUREL SWAMP INN.

In the Laurel Swamp, is now ready to take in any person that may wish to be "taken in." The human race have been wondering why this Tavern was not finished long ago. This is not at all surprising, as it has been nine weeks, sixteen days, and six hours longer building than the Tower of Babel—and caused more swearing, and confusion of tongues, undoubtedly than the same venerable edifice. Let good men all pray that the same calamity—the curse of God, may not follow this feeble effort of one poor man to get up a shanty for the protection of his fellow creatures, which was inflicted upon the proud and ambitious ones of old—who wished to get up to Heaven on Stone and Mortar, instead of by Good Works and by Grace. This House and surrounding Swamp have been a taking in concern from the first, on account of the nature of the soil. Title, quick sands, glorious legal uncertainties, and eternal delays. In the first place the title of the land has been in a state of "Bornation" (Cambria County named for birth) for ten years. This has been caused by a "baleful enchantment" and the influence of Mephistoghiles.

Although seventeen scientific legal Midwives of the most undoubted genius and reputation as land lawyers have been at work all that time, no title can be found.

Five Supreme Beldams are now at work with legal forceps and scissors to finish this "Bornation" from the forlorn mother of legal abstractions, and whom it is hoped, by hook or by crook, by right or by wrong, will have it accomplished.

The walls of this house itself have taken in more whiskey and money to build them, than any ten Barns in Cambria county.—The timbers of ships to last forever and then make good oven wood are boiled in oil. From high price and scarcity of grease, the Proprietor of the Laurel Swamp Inn thought it best to boil his timbers in whiskey. There were also other considerations of a scientific and chemical character. For, although the whiskey element will rot the human gut, it preserves timber, peaches, and dead animal matter from decay. His bar is only tolerably, whiskey predominating; but his greatest trouble is that he can only sell by the barrel or butt, having no license, as a compensation to the human soul for the want of the Music of the Spheres in the shape of three cent drinks. The proprietor will supply fiddling gratis, and every man can have the privilege of drinking thirty-two gallons or a common barrel. The nineteen gallon law of Massachusetts being considered a too puritanic and contracted arrangement for the stomach of man in these mountain parts.

His table is the ordinary mountain grub, common shanty cooking, hard enough, but suitable to a region near the line of eternal show, where the human nose is required to be pickled in whiskey or drop off with intense frost.

The Inn is situated in the Swamp one half mile west of Cokation, at the crossing of the three Allegheny Mountain roads, near a large sand rock spring, which has its "Bornation" from the roots of a venerable pine forest.

The building itself is of the Egyptain order of Architecture, that is, after the first formula of a human habitation or Temple for the household Gods, wigwam or tent like; in short the aboriginal shanty of the biped man, low and cavernous; simplicity and want having cut the graces entirely.

Hoping to have some custom, the proprietor is happy to inform the public that this resting place for the weary laden is now arranged. ROBERT SMITH.

The proprietor would inform the public that Dr. Jackson, of the firm of Jackson & Howe, has rooms in this house—his office being in the original squatters log cabin, opposite. The Dr. is well known to be sound on fits, and common snakes in the hat. His services can be obtained at any time.

GEN. SIGEL.—This gallant officer, who has probably gained as many substantial laurels, and rendered as much real service to the country as any general in our army, holds an important position in Pope's army, and we may at any moment look for startling intelligence from "the Army of Virginia." Sigel commands the advance corps d'armee of Pope's forces, and the rebels, it is believed, intend putting Stonewall Jackson against him. The forte of each of these officers has been that of strategy, dash and pluck; they both have the confidence of their followers, and of their respective sections. Jackson has the advantage of a better intimacy with the territory in which they are acting, having been reared a hunter in that region of the Old Dominion—but Sigel "was born a general;" he has improved and cultivated his natural military mental faculties by scientific education; made practical use of his genius and talent in the wars waged by the Revolutionists of Prussia; and has been all his life a close and thorough student of the science and art of war, occupying a professorship in a military academy in the West for more than eight years previous to the breaking out of the rebellion. So that "when Greek meets Greek, then comes the tug of war."

PASS IT ALONG.—Pass it along, whether you believe it or not—that one-sided whisper against the character of a virtuous female. You say you don't believe, but you will use your influence to bear up the false report and pass it on the current.—Strange are mankind! How many reputations have been lost by surmise! How many hearts have been bled by a whisper! How many benevolent deeds have been chilled by the shrug of a shoulder!—How many individuals have been shunned by a gentle, mysterious hint! How many early graves have been dug by a false report! Yet you will pass the slander along; you keep it above water by a wag of your tongue, when you might sink it forever. Destroy the passion for telling a tale, we pray you. Lisp not a word that may injure the character of another.

If the female has erred, forgive her, and forget the past—she has wounds enough without the fangs of the slander's tongue. Be determined to listen to no story that is repeated to the injury of another, and as far as you are concerned, the slander will die. But tell it once, and it may go as on the wings of the winds—increasing with each breath, till it is circulated throughout the State, and has brought to the grave one who might have lived and been a blessing to the world.

A COW'S MITE TO THE WAR FUND.—The Albany Evening Journal gives us this story, the cream of which is the $285:—A few days since, subscriptions were set on foot in Orleans County. A farmer of moderate means contributed $50 and a cow. Every one conceded that this was liberal; but it occurred to a friend that the cow might be turned to excellent account. Lots were to be cast for her, and 205 tickets, at $1 each, were distributed and paid for. This, practically, brought up the farmer's subscription to $255.—The winner put her up at auction, and $30 more were added to the fund—making the aggregate $285. But it was deemed a pity that a cow so thoroughly patriotic should be sold so cheap; and the result was that $17 were added to the purchase money—making the cow's aggregate contribution to the fund $252, besides the $50 from her orignal owner. There are a great many rich men, all over the country, who will not do half as much for the war as this cow.

WIFE vs. LADY.—It is certainly not in good taste for a gentleman to speak of his wife as his "lady," or to register their names upon the books of a hotel as "John Smith and Lady," or to ask a friend "How is your lady?" This is all fashionable vulgarity, and invariably betrays a lack of cultivation. The term "wife" is far more beautiful and appropriate and refined, whatever may be said to the contray. Suppose a lady were to say, instead of "my husband," my gentleman; or suppose we were to speak of "Mrs. Fitz and her gentleman." The thing would be absolutely ludicrous, and its obverse is none the less so, if rightfully considered. A man's wife is his wife, and not his lady; and we marvel this latter term is not absolutely tabooed in such a connection, at least by intelligent and educated people. It ought to be left for the exclusive use of codfish aristocracy.

FUNNY.—Rumsey and Newcomb's Minstrels have been driven out of Germany. An English paper says: It appears that the Germans, unaccustomed to this sort of entertainment, expected to find the troop composed of real black men, and when it was discovered that they were only white men, blackened up for the purpose of caricaturing the "nigger," the German press and people denounced them as impostors! The public was informed by the German press, in all seriousness, that Rumsey and Newcomb's Minstrels were base imposters, and that the black could be rubbed off their faces, and that there was not a real black among them! The result was that our minstrel friends were obliged to bring their performance to a very abrupt conclusion, or they might have been "assisted" out of town.

☞ Look at the great mass of marriages that take place over the whole world, poor contemptible affairs that they are. A few soft looks, a walk, a dance, a squeeze of the hand, a popping of the question, a purchasing of a ring, a minister, a ride or two in a hired carriage, a night in a country inn, and all is over. For five or six weeks two sheepish looking persons are seen dangling on each other's arms, looking at waterfalls or guzzling wine and cakes; then everything falls into the most monotonous routine—the wife sits on one side, the husband on the other, and little quarrels, little cares, little children, little joys and little sorrows gradually gather around them. This is what ninety-nine out of a hundred find to be the delights of matrimony.

DEFINITION OF GOOD MANNERS.—The world has always been charmed with fine manners, and why should it not? For what are fine manners but this: to carry your soul on your lip, in your eye, in the palm of your hand, and yet to stand not naked, but clothed by your individual quality—visible, yet inscrutable—given to the hearts of others, yet contained in your own bosom—nobly and humanely open, yet duly reticent and secured from invasion. Polished manners often disappoint us; good manners never. The former may be taken on by indulgent souls; the latter imply a noble and opulent nature.

Altoona Tribune.

ALTOONA, PA.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 14, 1862.

Resources of our Government.

The public mind is somewhat unfavorably influenced by the idea that we are doing that which was never done before by any nation, and that the call for six hundred thousand men by the President, and the proposed conscription in default of volunteers to fill the number, are a greater effort upon our part, and form a tax upon our national resources, beyond anything recorded in the pages of history. This, says the New York World, is not so. Those newspapers that harp upon this string in the face of historial facts well known to every educated person, do so in order to depress the public enthusiasm, and thus indirectly aid the rebels.—The facts are that we have not yet begun to tax our national strength and great wealth and resources in anything like the relative proportion possible, as may be seen from the statements we place before our readers respecting that which France and Great Britain did in the war from 1793 to 1815.

In the year 1813, after twenty years war in all Europe, France, with a population of 28,700,000, placed in the field an effective military force of 800,000 infantry, 100,000 cavalry, 100,000 artillerymen, and engineers, making a total of a million of men. France also had 3,500,000 horses, which consumed as much food as 30,000,000 of people. In this same year, 1813, the conscription was also issued for twelve hundred thousand men, and it was allotted as follows:---1. 350,000 drawn from those on the lists for conscription in 1812 and 1813, and from 1810 to 1813. 2. 180,000 from those on the list for 1814. 3. 120,000 men from that of 1814; 160,000 men that of 1815. Great Britain, in 1813, with a population including that of Ireland, of 18,547,720, had a total military and naval force under arms of 1,165,520 men.

The population of the loyal States is about 23,000,000, or 5,000,000 more than that of Great Britain and Ireland in 1813, and about 5,000,000 less than that of France in 1813. Our wealth and natural resources are superior to either of those nations in 1813, and, instead of being twenty years at war, this is only the 15th month of our war, when they placed these vast armies of a million men in the field, armed and equipped.

The fact is that we are just as well able to keep up this war for twenty-two years as Great Britain and France were from 1793 to 1815. There is not the slightest occasion to doubt our ample power and wealth to put down the rebellion, and to wage this war for twenty-two years, as Great Britain and France have done, with less resources. At the end of the war in 1814 the French national debt was $250,000,000, and the annual interest on the same only $12,500,000. Napoleon who was as able a financier as he was a general, never would permit inconvertible paper money to be used in France, and specie was the only legal currency existing in France during the whole of his long and expensive wars.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book, for September, the first magazine for that month upon our table, is a germ in its line. The frontispiece, "Contrition," is a fine and expressive engraving, and the double leaf fashion plate is too pretty to talk about. If Godey can't please the ladies, there is no use in any other man trying. He is now so far ahead of all others in this particular that the palm is justly awarded to him. But the fashion-plates are not the only notable characteristics of the Book. Each number contains patterns enough to keep a lady working all year if she wishes to learn them. The recipes alone are worth the price of the book. Price $3 per annum. L. A. Godey, Philadelphia.

☞ Gen. Banks is universally commended for the manner in which he handled his men in his recent engagement with Jackson at Cedar Mountain. He has shown himself a soldier in every sense of the word. He was vastly outnumbered in the opening of the engagement, yet he never faltered. His men were like him. We are sorry to learn that the injuries he received have compelled him to leave his command, for a time. Brig. Gen. Williams fills his position.

Movements of Gov. Curtin.

The Harrisburg Telegraph, of Thursday, says that Gov. Curtin has gone to Washington to consult with the President in reference to the military organization of this State, the time and manner of making the draft, and such other matters as will facilitate enlistments and drafting. The Telegraph adds further, that it is the desire of Gov. Curtin, if the acquiescence of the War Department can be had, to postpone the time fixed for the draft. He is induced to this, on the assurance that there are hundreds of young and active men ready to enlist, if they are permitted to go into the service under the same auspices and terms of bounty which were accorded to the other men now in the army. This only seems just. At the time the call was made for the last three hundred thousand men, large numbers of the people of the rural districts were engaged in the work of harvest. That is now finished—but volunteering is also finished, and nothing is left for such men as these but to submit to a draft, which is regarded by many as ignominious. In order that this feeling may be dispelled, and the brave men who are anxious to volunteer may have an opportunity to do so, Gov. Curtin will propose to the War Department an extension of the time fixed for a draft. It is to be hoped that in this particutar His Excellency will be successful.

Another and a still more important object of Gov. Curtin, is to induce the War Department to vest the State authorities with power to give townships, boroughs, towns, cities and counties credit for the men recruited thus far, so that the draft can be graded for such localities, throughout the Commonwealth. This seem only fair and just, because, however we may attempt to disguise the fact, there are localities in the Commonwealth in which men have boasted of their determination not to enlist, and in which the practice of interfering with volunteers has been openly encouraged.

THE MURDER OF McCOOK.—The most dastardly act of the prevailing war was the cold-blooded murder of Brigadier-General Rob't McCook, by a band of guerrillas on Wednesday of last week. He was sick, and was in an ambulance on his way to Winchester, Tennessee, and when near Salem, Alabama, was waylaid by a gang of desperadoes, who tilted him out of the vehicle and then brutally murdered him. So vile an act has not heretofore been perpetrated, and it is no wonder that the rage of the Union people of Tennessee impelled them to acts of terrible retaliation. Robert McCook was one of the family of patriots from Ohio that has furnished eight or ten fine soldiers to the war. He is the second who has been killed, while one or two others have been wounded.

☞ The rebel Gen. Lee and Gen. Halleck have recently been in correspondence in relation to the orders of Gen. Pope requiring his men to subsist off the country through which they may pass. Gen. Lee threatens retaliation and a resort to uncivilized warfare. Gen. Halleck answers that no threat will deter the Government of the United States from pursuing the course recently adopted, and that it (the Government) intends to avail itself of all the advantages allowed by the rules of civilized warfare. Two of Gen. Lee's communications were so insulting that Gen. Halleck returned them unanswered.

☞ Newspaper reporters tell us that the movement of Gen. McClellan's army, with the view of occupying Malvern Hill, was frustrated by the actions of Gen. Frank Patterson, who moved his men in such a manner as to give the enemy an idea of the intentions of Gen. McClellan. It is said that he was intoxicated at the time. He has since been arrested and sent to Washington, where he will undergo a court-martial.

GEN. McCLELLAN MOVING.

The Peninsula being Evacuated.

NEW YORK, August 14.

A newspaper correspondent at Fortress Monroe, under the date of the 12th instant, says that the movements of General McClellan indicate that the great body of the Army of the Potomac is about to withdraw down the Peninsula. For the last forty-eight hours transports loaded heavily with troops are coming down the James river, and without stopping at Fortress Monroe, have gone directly up the bay to some river leading into Virginia.

A private note from Fortress Monroe, dated yesterday, says:

"The army is now moving away from Harrison's Landing, and, by to-morrow, I hear the place will be cleared. They are coming down over the Chickahominy, I learn, to Yorktown, by land.—The artillery has been shipped by water.

The pontoon bridges went up to bridge the river, night before last."

The steamer Adelaide, Capt. James Cannon, arrived here this morning from Fortress Monroe with a large number of passengers, including officers of the army and discharged soldiers, many of whom were musicians, who are discharged.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 14.

The regular mail boat from Harrison's Landing came down the James river yesterday, and reports the greatest activity prevailing among the fleet of transports. A number of officers of the army and navy came down from the Landing, who report the Army of the Peninsula in motion, but of course are silent as to its destination. All day yesterday Hampton Roads presented a lively scene in consequence of the arrival and departure of steamers and other vessels, and the weather was such as to facilitate army movements.

Battle at Cedar Mountain.

WASHINGTON, AUGUST 10.—The most desperate fight for the numbers engaged since the war commenced occurred yesterday at Cedar Mountain, eight miles south of Culpepper Court House, Va., between General Banks' corps d'armee of General Pope's forces and the rebels under Stonewall Jackson in person. General Pope had sent General Banks' command to the front early in the morning, and the divisions of Generals Augur and Williams took a position a mile and a half this side of the ground of the skirmish of the day previous.

In the afternoon, Crawford's brigade, of Gen. Williams' division, composed of the 46th Pa., 10th Maine, 5th Conn., and 28th New York regiments, with Best's battery of regulars, moved forward to a piece of high ground between Cedar Creek and Crooked river, some four miles north of the point where the Culpepper and Gordonsville turnpike crosses that stream. To the south of this point, distant about three-fourths of a mile, rises the Cedar mountain, a spur of the great thoroughfare range.

No sooner had our troops emerged from the timber on the north and crossed Cedar Creek, than a battery of heavy guns, located in the thick timber half way up the mountain side, opened upon them with shot and shell, and other of smaller guns from a point of timber, about three-eighths of a mile to the westward. Brest's battery of Parrot guns was immediately planted on the crest of the hill, and began replying to the two while the infantry was posted in line of battle to the right of the battery.

The enemy kept up a continuous fire from both batteries some half an hour, which was returned by Capt. Brest, when three additional relief batteries opened from as many localities.

At about five o'clock the rebel infantry was discovered in strong force upon our right and in front, supporting the batteries, when word was sent back to the main body, stating the fact, immediately. Gen. Augur's division, with the remainder of Gen. Williams' division, were thrown forward and posted upon the right of Gen. Crawford, and fronting the dense timber where the rebel infantry was posted.

Gen. Banks now rode on to the field and directed the operations of General Geary's brigade of General Augur's division, had the advance and maintained it admirably. Gen. Geary's brigade consisted of the Fifth Ohio, Seventh Ohio. Twenty-ninth Ohio, Twenty-eighth Pennsylvania and Knapp's battery.

No sooner had these troops taken their places than the rebels opened musketry fire upon them from two sides and in front, aided by the batteries before mentioned.

The batteries on the mountain also kept up a most destructive fire, but the Federal troops never faltered or even winced. At half-past five the battle became general, artillery replying to artillery and infantry and desperation was the order of the day. The fight continued until dark put a stop to the carnage.

I have seen many battles during this war, but I have witnessed none where the tenacious obstinacy of the American character was so fully displayed. Our troops fought with the valor of veterans. No sooner did a volley of musketry or a charge of artillery mow down the ranks of a regiment than the gaps were closed up and a new front presented; regiment vied with regiment, and brigade with brigade, in deeds of valor, and few instances indeed were there where even individuals faltered.

The 8th and 12th regulars, attached to General Banks' corps, led by Captain Pitcher, did excellent service. Captain Pitcher was severely wounded, though not dangerously in the knee by a musket shot, but he kept the field until the end. With the setting in of darkness the firing of musketry ceased, but the artillery upon the mountain kept up random firing until near midnight. At dark our troops withdrew to a small copse of wood, about half a mile to the rear of their first position, where they were joined soon after by the corps of Generals McDowell and Sigel, who formed in their rear at 9 o'clock in the evening.

The hungry and wearied troops of Gen. Banks were relieved by portions of McDowell's command, and fell back half a mile, resting on their arms in a pleasant clover field. The night was unusually lustrous, and all prominent objects were as plainly distinguished as in the bright daylight. Thoroughfare mountain loomed up to the west, a rebel signal light now flashing through space, and our long columns standing by their muskets stretched up and down the slopes and fields were dimly descried with their faces toward the enemy.

Crawford's brigade, which had borne the brunt of the fight, threw themselves almost exhausted upon the moist grass and talked over the adventures of the battle. Some of the men incautiously made fires, and this revealing our position, the enemy commenced shelling them. Their firing was generally excellent, the shells bursting among trains of ambulances and horses, soon compelling our soldiers to move back towards Culpepper.

A panic was very nearly occasioned at this time, as the regiments took to their heels to get out of range, and, seeing so many men retreating, others that had not reached the field also started to run, and soon the roads were crowded with frightened people, who added to the existing misfortunes by telling wild stories of repulse, loss and discomfiture. Soon the Provost's guards were thrown across the roads and fields, stopping stragglers, and suffering only the wounded to pass. The wounded came in on foot in great numbers, and the ambulances were promptly on the spot to carry off those unable to walk.

The scenes that made the morning light terrible were the concomitants of all battle fields, but the unusually heavy loss of field and line officers was remarkable.—Most of our wounded are wounded in the lower limbs.

About four o'clock in the afternoon, General Pope and staff went upon the field, and were greeted with the most vociferous cheers. The General rode to the extreme front in the thickest of the fight, and came near getting into a rebel ambuscade, but he discovered his danger in time to avoid it.

We took several rebel prisoners, from whom I gained some information. It is ascertained that the rebel General Winder is killed, General Jackson is wounded slightly in the hand, and General Saxton is mortally wounded. The rebel force engaged in the battle was from forty to fifty thousand.

Two pieces of artillery and a large number of small arms were captured from the enemy.

CULPEPPER C. H., VA., August 12.—The flight of Jackson shows that he fears our troops. On Saturday he engaged with his whole force, numbering at least thirty thousand men, a portion of the corps of Gen. Banks, who behaved nobly, holding the enemy in check, and, with the aid of one division of McDowell's and Sigel's corps, which arrived late in the day, driving it from several positions, and, finally, from the field of battle. Jackson's loss can scarcely be less than fifteen hundred. Our loss is much less. It was the bloodiest battle of the war. On Sunday Jackson remained idle, the troops on both sides being exhausted, and on Monday he asked for a truce to bury his dead, a large proportion of which lie on the field of battle, pending which he escaped with his trains.

This morning his whole army was gone, pursued by Gen. Buford, with his cavalry and artillery, which quickened his pace towards Gordonsville, compelling him to burn bridges to save himself, and obviously not intending to stop before reaching the fortifications at Richmond. General Pope has fully met the public expectation. The enemy show their backs only. The valley of the Shenandoah and the whole country from Manassas to Gordonsville is no longer polluted by the presence of armed rebels. Jackson's servant has just come into the quarters of Gen. McDowell, and reports that Jackson admits a loss of two thousand men in the engagement of Saturday. No wonder the rebel General runs.

Burning of the Steamer Golden Gate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 8.—The steamer Golden Gate, Captain Hudson commander, has been burned at sea. She sailed hence for Panama on the 21st ult., having 95 cabin passengers, 147 in the second cabin and steerage, and a crew of 95, making a total of 337. She had on board $1,400,000 in gold, of which Kirby Byrne & Co. shipped $10,000, and Meader, Lolor & Co. shipped the same amount.

On the 27th ult., at 4:45 P. M., when fifteen miles north of Manazanilla while the passengers were dining, an alarm of fire was given. The steamer was promptly headed for the shore, 3½ miles distant, the flames making fearful headway. At a quarter after 5 o'clock the upper deck fell in, and soon after the steamer struck the beach. The passengers and crew who had not got into the boats jumped overboard and endeavored to swim ashore. About one hundred, including five children, swam or were washed ashore alive.

The ship was burned to the water's edge, and soon disappeared.

Those on shore made their way to near Manzanilla as the steamer St. Louis arrived up from Panama.

Some few others escaped to Manzanilla in boats. One boat, with thirty persons on board, has not been heard from, and probably made the shore south of Manzanilla.

The steamer St. Louis arrived here tonight, bringing seventy-eight of the Golden Gate's passengers, all that are known certainly to be saved, and a portion of the crew.

LOYALTY IN NORTH CAROLINA.—A letter from Plymouth, North Carolina, says: There are before the town five gunboats, the Perry, the Putnam, the Ceres, the Lockwood and the Shawsheen. Company F, of Hawkins' Zouaves, are in town. There is a also a considerable force of North Carolina recruits, regularly mustered into the United States service, clothed, equipped, and performing valuable service for the Union cause. I came here two days ago, and I have noticed squads of stalwart men from various portions of the surrounding country coming in and offering themselves to the United States, ready and willing to spend their lives in its service. On the 25th, two days ago, the people of this county assembled in the court house in this town to organize themselves into a force to resist the rebels, and to adopt measures for the total annihilation of treason within the county limits. The court house was crowded. Resolutions were passed which expressed the loyalty of the people, and their determination to rise up, resist the rebels, and strike a blow for their own recovery.

THE RAM ARKANSAS DESTROYED.—The Petersburg Express of the 9th has a telegram from Richmond, dated the 8th, which says: A dispatch from General Van Dorn to Secretary Mallory states that the Confederate ram Arkansas, Lieut. Stephens commanding, had been destroyed. She left Vicksburg on Monday to co-operate in the attack on Baton Rouge. After passing Bayou Sara her machinery became deranged, and while attempting to adjust it several of the enemy's gunboats attacked her. After a gallant resistance she was abandoned and blown up. Her officers and men reached the shore in safety.

CASE OF DANIEL A. BOYD.

PITTSBURGH, December 31, 1861.

DR. G. H. KEYSER:—I take pleasure in making this voluntary statement in favor of a medicine prepared by you called "LINDSEY'S BLOOD SEARCHER." I had suffered for five years with Scrofula which broke out on my head and forehead so as to disfigure me very much, and took off the hair when the disease made its appearance; it also broke out on my arm above and below the elbow, and eat into the skin and flesh so as to expose a fearful sore. The disease on my head went so far that several small pieces of bone came out. I was very week and low spirited, and had given up all hope of ever getting well, as I had tried several skillful physicians and they did me no good. In September last, 1861, I was induced to try "LINDSEY'S IMPROVED BLOOD SEARCHER." I must confess I had no faith in patent medicines, but after I had used three bottles of Blood Searcher, the ulcers on my head and arm began to heal. I have now taken eight or ten bottles, and my head and arm are entirely well except the scars remaining from the sores. I will also state that I had the rheumatism very bad in my arms and legs. The Blood Searcher also cured the rheumatism. I am now a well man, over forty years of age, and I feel as suple and young as I did when I was twenty, and have increased in weight twenty pounds. I would also state that the disease in my foreheard was so bad that when I stooped and lifted anything heavy, the blood run out of the sore. Dr. Keyser had a photograph taken or me by Mr. Cargo, the artist, after I began to get well. It does not show my appearance as bad as it was before I commenced taking the medicine. You can see the photograph, one of which is now in my possession, and also at Dr. Keyser's 140 Wood street. I would also state that I took the Blood Searcher which was made before Dr. Keyser commenced making it. Although it helped me some, I did not recover fast until I got the kind made by Dr. Keyser himself. One bottle of his did me more good than two of the old. I believe it is a great deal stronger and better. I have recommended the Blood Searcher to a great many of my friends for various diseases, and I believe it has helped the whole of them. You may publish this if you wish, and I am anxious that all who are afflicted as I was may be cured. I live in this city, No. 4 Pine street, and am employed at Collville & Anderson's Union Marble Works, 54 Wayne street.

DANIEL A. BOYD

A BLIND MAN CURED.

I live in Sligo, at Clinton Mill, and have been nearly blind in both eyes for nearly four years. I called on Dr. Keyser about three months ago and asked him to give me directions to the Institution for the Blind in Philadelphia. He told me that I need not go to Philadelphia to get well, as he had medicine that would cure me, as he said my disease was in the blood. I was treated for it two or three times in the hospital in this city, and was relieved, but my disease always returned after a month or two after I came out of the hospital. I found my disease was returning and I called, by the advice of a good friend of mine, on Dr. Keyser, who has restored my sight, and my eyes are nearly as well as ever. The Doctor gave me "Lindsey's Blood Searcher" and a wash.

A BAD SORE LEG CURED.

PITTSBURGH, September 18, 1861.—I hereby certify that I have had a sore leg for over a year. It was covered with ulcers and sores so that I could not work for nearly a year. My leg swelled so that I was unable to do anything for a long time, for at least six months. I tried several of the best doctors in the city, but without any benefit; finally I called on Dr. Keyser, at No. 140 Wood street, who only attended me about two weeks, and gave me but two bottles of medicine, and I am now entirely well and have contined so for six months. I am employed at the Eagle Engine House, on Fourth street, where any one can see me.

THOMAS FARRELL.

CANCER CURED.

A LETTER FROM ENGLAND.—Mr. John Pope, of Blaenavon, near Montypool, Monmontshire, England, writes as follows:

SIR:—An old woman in this place has wished me to write you respecting LINDSEY'S BLOOD SEARCHER, from which she found great benefit, and wishes to have a little more. She has been suffering from a disease of a cancerous nature for the last six or seven years. Her daughter who is living in America, obtained it for her, and sent her eighteen bottles. She is now quite out of it, and I have written to her daughter twice and have received no answer; of course she is anxious to get more, to get completely cured. I told her I would write to you for the agency in this country, and she felt very much pleased to hear me say so. I now beg to ask you on what terms you will supply me; you will please bear in mind the carriage, and supply me as cheap as possible. The carriage on the one dozen bottles was £1 8s 6d. The medicine was a present from her daughter. I would like to have the Blood Searcher in a jar or small cask, if you can send it in that way, or in pint or quart bottles. I will send a bill through bank or registered letter, which ever will be most convenient to you, if you will send me carrier's receipt of the parcel as security. I would send you a stamp to answer this, but as it is uncertain of this reaching you, on account of the country being in six and sevens, a term which is commonly used, you will be kind enough to charge me with the postage.

Yours, respectfully,

[Signed] JOHN POPE.

[We have seen the letter which is published in to-day's Dispatch, from John Pope, and believe it to be genuine.—Editors Dispatch Pittsburgh.

DEPARTURE OF OUR VOLUNTEERS.—On Friday morning last, the two volunteer companies recruited in this place, by Captains Szink and Gardner, departed for Harrisburg, on a special train.—Long previous to the hour at which they were to start, men, women and children commenced flocking to the depot, and by half past seven o'clock perhaps the largest concourse of people ever witnessed in the town had assembled in front of the Logan House. Business seemed to be entirely suspended, and one-half, if not two-thirds, of the dwellings were deserted. Relatives were there to bid farewell, perhaps forever, to those near and dear to them, and the partings witnessed were sufficient to melt the hearts of the most callous. A few passed the ordeal of separation with fortitude, not deigning to meet trouble half-way, but such cases were rare, and required more self-possession than generally falls to the lot of the gentler sex.—Friends and acquaintances were there to give the parting hand and offer words of encouragement to the gallant men who were about to exchange pleasant and comfortable homes for the privations, exposures and dangers of camp life and the field of battle. Spontaneously, as it were, at the call of their country, they laid aside the hammer, and plain, and trowel, and other implements of peace, to take up the sword and musket, implements of death, and go forth to meet and repel the foes of liberty and christianity, and obtain for themselves an honorable place on the scroll of fame, or an honorable death in defence of the right. Nothing but a clear consciousness of duty could have tempted them to enter the service. All that heart could wish and friends supply was theirs at home. While all who enlisted are entitled to, and will receive, a bounty, yet we venture to say that scarcely one in ten thought of the bounty when they gave in their names. We would be sorry to know that the paltry sum offered as a bounty was necessary to wake up our young men to a sense of their duty. The only advantage gained by offering the bounty is, that it enables men who want to serve their country, but who are poor, to leave something behind for the support of those who are dependent upon them.

Shortly before eight o'clock the Altoona Brass Band escorted the companies from their recruiting offices to the cars in waiting for them, and at about eight o'clock the train pulled out, amid the vociferous cheers of the crowd at the depot and on the cars, the waving of handkerchiefs, the booming of little "Union," and music by the brass and martial bands.

Another Company from Altoona.—We understand that another company is now forming in this place, to be under the command of Captain William Boyden. That the company can be raised there is no doubt, and the orders from Washington, which we publish in another column, extending the time of filling up volunteer companies, renders it certain that Altoona will furnish the third company under the late calls. Although the Government allows no bounty to those who go into service under the malitia call, yet we feel certain that the county will pay a bounty. We know our Commissioners are inclined to do it, and the people will sanction their action. "Little Blair" has won the title of the "banner county" of the State in being the first to fill up and far exceed her quota of men under the first call. We learn from good authority that the quota of Blair county, under both calls, and for men to fill up the old regiments, will be about one thousand men. Altoona has done her duty, thus far, nobly and quickly, and she will continue to do it. To those who know Captain Boyden there is no use in our speaking a word in his praise, but to those who do not know him we would say, gentlemen, you could not go into the service under a man who will more faithfully befriend you and take care of your rights.—Fill up Altoona company No. 3.

Farewell Address.—The members of Capt. Szink's company assembled in front of the United Brethren Church, on Thursday evening last, to listen to a farewell address delivered by Rev. S. Kephart, pastor of the congregation. There was a full turn out of the company, and a large number of citizens. The address was spirited and to the point, showing that the speaker's soul was engaged in the cause of the Union as well as in the cause of religion. While encouraging the company to fight like heroes, and maintain the honor of the stars and stripes, he impressed upon them the necessity of being prepared for the dangers of the battle-field—for death, if that should be their portion. Addresses were also delivered by M. T. Dill, Capt. Szink, Capt. Crozier and Rev. Shearer, all breathing words of encouragement to the men who had so nobly and quickly responded to the call of their country.

Democratic County Convention.—The Democratic County Convention met in Hollidaysburg, on Wednesday of last week, and organized by electing Col. Wm. Jack, President.

Col. Archibald McAlister was unanimously declared the nominee of the Convention for Congress. William Jack, John Woods and Samuel Isett were appointed Congressional Conferees.

Thaddeus Banks and Theophilus Snyder were placed in nomination for State Senators. A ballot resulted in the nomination of Theophilus Snyder. James Lowther, John C. Everhart and R. W. Christy were appointed Senatorial Conferees.

On motion of Col. Everhart, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That this Convention deem it inexpedient to nominate a County ticket at this time.

☞ We are behind time with our paper this week, in consequence of three of our compositors having laid down the "stick and rule" and taken up their line of march for "dixie." Our youngest d—l is all that is left with us, and were he of military age and proportions he would follow in the footsteps of his companions. We have seen the time when the shadow of one "tramping jour" had scarcely passed out the door ere another entered to inquire for a "case." But times are changed.—We have seen but one travelling jour in the last twelve months. It is more difficult now to get workmen than it once was to get rid of them.—We hope to be able to obtain a recruit or two in a few days, and keep things moving as usual, provided Uncle Sam don't give the proprietors notice that he wants their service for nine months.

A Foundling.—We learn that on Wednesday evening last, an infant, apparently but a few hours old, was found on one of the back streets, in East Ward. It was carefully wrapped up and had been carefully deposited where it was found. Its cries attracted the attention of some person passing by. It was taken in and cared for by some of the ladies in the locality where it was found, and is now in the possession of Mrs. Alexander Marshall. It has not yet been discovered to whom it belongs. We hope the inhuman being who could thus desert her offspring, may be ferretted out and punished as she justly deserves.

Severely Injured.—On Thursday of last week, Craig Stewart, a brakesman on one of the freight trains between this place and Harrisburg, while standing on top of a car, was knocked down by the bridge below Tipton, and so severely injured that he yet lies in a critical condition. No one saw him receive the stroke, but he was found shortly after lying on the top of the car in an insensible condition, the blood oozing from his ears. He was placed in a car and brought to this place, where he received medical attention. He was removed to Hollidaysburg, where his family reside.

Excursion Train.—An excursion train will be run from Hollidaysburg to Birmingham, on Sunday next, for the accommodation of those who wish to attend the Camp Meeting at the latter place. The train will leave Hollidaysburg at 7.30 A. M., and Altoona at 8.00 A. M., and arrive at Birmingham at 9.00 A. M. Returning, will leave Birmingham at 10.00 P. M., and arrive at Hollidaysburg at 11.25 P. M., stopping at all stations.

☞ We would advise those of our citizens who have relatives and friends in camp, at Harrisburg, not to give credence to the innumerable rumors set afloat every day, by designing persons, no doubt, for the purpose of annoying them. All the letters we have yet received from our boys state that they are getting along finely, have plenty to eat and plenty of fun.

Base Ball Club Challenge Accepted.—The Keystone Base Ball Club, of Harrisburg, recently challenged the Club, in this place, for a match. The Altoona Club has accepted the challenge, selected the members who are to enter the match, and named Wednesday next as the time, and Harrisburg the place where the contest shall come off.

☞ By reference to another column it will be seen that we are to have a visit from Gardner & Hemming's Circus Company. Those who patronize such entertainments will of course be in attendance, and those who do not, will save their dimes by staying at home. "Everybody to their liking," as the old lady said when she kissed her cow.

☞ The Westward Express Train this (Friday) morning ran over a man in the "Narrows," between Mifflin and Lewistown. It is supposed that he was a soldier, and had fallen from the Special train which passed East last night. It is not known whether he was living or dead when the Express passed over him.

Thanks.—Samuel P. Bates, Deputy Superintendent of Common Schools of Pennsylvania, will accept our thanks for a copy of the Common School Laws of the State with the decisions of the Superintendent and explanatory instructions and forms.

Lost—On Wednesday last, 13th inst., between the Rail Road and Harriet street, East Ward, a SILVER HUNTING CASED WATCH. The finder will be suitably rewarded on leaving it with the owner, at the Passenger Station.

Altoona, Aug. 14, 1862.

To the Public!—An experience of six months has fully convinced me that the CASH SYSTEM is the best, both for merchant and consumer. It enables the merchant to sell at ONE-HALF LESS PROFIT and make more clear money, with less trouble than he can by selling on credit; and the reason is obvious—he gets the money down for everything he wants to sell, and has the use of it immediately.—The consumer also saves by buying for cash, because he gets his merchandise at from 25 to 50 per cent. below what he would have to pay if he bought on credit, or even if he bought at a store which sells on credit. The credit business always loses a certain per centage, which must be made up from cash or prompt monthly payers.

I am determined to do nothing but a CASH BUSINESS, and have but ONE PRICE for my Goods.

I have just returned from the cities of New York and Philadelphia with the largest and cheapest assortment of Goods ever brought to Altoona. I would first invite attention to my complete selection of DRY GOODS, such as Morianta Silks, Black Silks, Ducals, Reps, Foulards, Schallies, Delaines, Poplins, Debeges, Ginghams, Cambrics, Prints, Brown and Bleached Muslins, Tickings, Checks, Linens, Table Napkins, Table Diapers, Gloves, Hosiery. Also, a fine stock of Cassimeres, Cottonades, Jeans, &c., for men and boys.

A splendid assortment of Boots and Shoes, for ladies, misses, men and boys.

Wall Paper and Bordering—a large and entirely new selection, embracing the latest and most beautiful styles of Paper for Halls, Parlors, Offices, Bed-Rooms, &c., ranging in price from 5 cents per bolt, upwards.

GROCERIES.—My stock of Groceries is unsurpassed, being entirely fresh. Best Syrup Molasses, only 60 cents per gallon; 2d class only 50 cents. Sugars at 9, 10, 11 and 11½ cents per lb. Coffee, Tea, Spices, Salt, Fish, Soap, Candles, and everything in that line, at Cash Prices.

In the QUEENSWARE line, I have the largest stock in town: Wedgewood's celebrated Iron-Stone Tea Sets, forty-six pieces, only $3.87. China Sets complete, only $12.00. Chamber Sets, from $1.25 upward.

In the way of GLASSWARE, I have everything mentionable, such as Fruit Stands, Cake Stands, Jelly Dishes, Preserve Jars, Goblets, Tumblers, &c., &c.

I would respectfully invite the public to call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere, as I feel confident that I can convince them that it is cheaper to buy for cash than on credit; and also, that my stock is worth an examination.

R. A. O. KERR.

Altoona, April 17, 1862.

TO THE NERVOUS OF BOTH SEXES.—A retired Clergyman having been restored to health in a few days, after many years of great suffering, is willing to assist others by sending (free) on the receipt of a post-paid directed envelope, a copy of the prescription used. Direct the REV. JOHN M. DAGNALL, 186, Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y. [June 12.–4m.

MARRIED.

On the 5th inst., by the Rev. A. W. Gibson, Capt. R. J. CROZIER, of Company M, 62d Reg., P. V., to Miss LUCY LOWE, of Gaysport, this county.

May no bullet from rebel gun ever pierce the vitals of the gallant Captain so fatally as did the arrow of that unerring archer—Cupid. While the soldier may face death at the cannon's mouth, and in malarious swaps, with heroic bravery, yet it is astonishing how quickly they surrender when charged upon by one of the gentler sex, and own to "love's resistless sway." May peace find the Captain and his bride both alive.

DIED:

At his residence in Logan township, on the 11th inst., SAMUEL McDOWELL, aged 10 years, 3 months and 25 days.

In Upper Sandusky, Wyandott county, Ohio, on the 3d inst., MARTHA JANE, daughter of Patrick and C. Morris, of this place, aged 2 years, 9 months and 20 days. The father is in the Army of the Potomac, being a Sergeant in Capt. Crozier's company, 62d Pa. Reg.

Dear Daughter—

"We lay thee in the silent tomb,
Sweet blossom of a day;
We just began to view thy bloom,
And thou art called away.
Friendship and love have done their last,
And now can do no more.
The bitterness of death is past,
And all thy sufferings o'er.
O who could wish thy longer stay
In such a world as this,
Since thou hast gained the realms of day,
And pure, undying bliss?"

Hollidaysburg papers please copy above notices.

In Hollidaysburg, on the 10th inst., at the residence of her son-in-law, John Creswell, Jr., Mrs. SARAH ARMITAGE, aged 71 years.

LADIES' CHOICE!——PATENT
SELF-TESTING! SELF-SEALING!
FRUIT CANS & JARS!
10,000 HAVE STOOD THE TEST!

Manufactured and sold by HALLER & SAMUEL, sole agents, 459 North Second Street, Philadelphia, and for sale by

R. A. O. Kerr,
ALTOONA, PA.

HUYETT & FRIDLEY'S PATENT.

These Cans and Jars, being perfectly simple in their arrangement, and requiring no cement or solder to make them Air-Tight, are the most reliable and convenient vessels for preserving fruits and vegetables of all kinds, that are in the market.

THEY POSSESS THE FOLLOWING ADVANTAGES:

1st. All that is required after the fruit has been put in hot, is simply to screw the top down tightly.

2d. They can be opened by a single turn of the cover, and the contents taken out in one-fourth the time required by other cans.

3d. Besides their simplicity and ease of adjustment, and impossibility of stoppers blowing out, they show at all times the exact condition of the fruit, by simply looking at the top of the cover; if the gum is concave the fruit is good: if convex, the fruit is going to spoil, but will always show itself in time to be saved.

Directions.

Heat the Jars or place an iron spoon in them while filling, which will avoid cracking. After the Jars are full, take out the spoon or iron, and screw down the cap tight.

Care should be taken to replace the same covers on the same Jars from which they were taken.

To restore the gums that have been used, to their original shape, put them in hot water for one hour.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsy, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

Mentally.—The fearful effects of the mind are much to be dreaded—Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of spirits, Evil-Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption.
